1926 Issue of Register Tells Of Factory Drive

LOOKING BACKWARD: With column material a bit scarce I decided to go back into The Daily Register files and see what happened during this week thirty years ago.

And right there on the front page of the April 6, 1926 edition I saw the story I'm going to give you. Yessirree, thirty years ago to the day.

It was headlined:

TALK FACTORY TO OUR BUSINESS MEN

Manufacturing Plant Desires to Locate in City If Given Proper Encouragement

And here is the story: "A preliminary confab in regard to Harrisburg's much talked of factory boom took definite shape last night when a group of prominent business men met to listen to a proposal made by Maurice Gordon, president of Gordon Mills, Inc., and Arthur Fink, vice president and general counsel of the company.

"Gordon Mills operates and maintains a pillow slip and bed sheet manufacturing plant at Belmont, Ill. Increased orders and need of additional facilities and capital necessitate expansion. The heads of the institution are therefore, according to their explanation, looking for a suitable location in southern Illinois.

"The company, incorporated for $125,000, expects the citizens of the town they locate in to subscribe to $25,000 worth of stock. In return this concern would install machinery and give employment to 35 to 50 girls at the start, paying them from $12 per week at the start. More would be employed later.

"Whether or not the city would support a manufacturing concern is not yet ascertainable but an investigation of the concern, its officers and financial standing is now under way.

"It was stated today by several local business men that a pants manufacturing concern is ready to locate here providing assurances of support were given it; also a millinery company now in St. Louis has asked for a survey of local conditions with the idea that it, too, would consider Harrisburg as a probable place for installation of a plant."

Merrily we roll along.

They had a primary coming up the following week in 1926, just like we'll have one coming up in 1956. But in 1926 the county was nominating for sheriff, county clerk, county treasurer, county judge and county superintendent of schools instead of for state's attorney, circuit clerk and coroner.

In 1926 the Democrats had but one contest for county office, with lots running for the GOP nominations. For Sheriff, the Democrats had two running, Ezra Heatherly and Ray Baker. John Small was the lone candidate for treasurer, Ray Owens for county clerk and A. A. Moore for superintendent of schools. There was no candidate for county judge.

But the Republican primary looked like this:

Sheriff — Hal C. Bynum, Frank Rhine, C. E. Sullivan, Lige W. Turner, Lloyd Vinson, Robert L. Weaver. Treasurer — Stephen Cotton, Roy C. Dixon, George G. Mugge, William McNab, Ed B. Organ, Clerk — Bert Dunn, Clarence J. Goben, Walter C. Nolen, Afton Organ, Vernon Smith, Judge — W. W. Damron, E. E. Ledford, Mason Love, A. D. McKenzie.

The Orpheum was showing "Damaged Goods" for a price of 50 cents to all and the Grand was staging a Charleston contest with music by Skaggs' Snappy Sereaders.

R. D. Brown (present highway superintendent) and D. B. McGee announced their resignations from the O'Garra Coal Co. that week. And the Dunlap Construction Co. of Edwardsville was setting up headquarters here to pave the first 16 miles of Route 34 out of Harrisburg.

Lack of Funds Put School in Hole $70,000

Need for Increase in Tax Rate Outlined At Meeting at HTHS

Lack of funds for educational purposes will have put the Harrisburg Township high school in the hole to the tune of approximately $70,000 for the past two years, it was revealed last night at a meeting held at the school.

Twice an attempt was made at the polls to raise the rate so that the school wouldn't get into such financial embarrassment, but the public failed to go along with the move sufficiently and the proposition failed both times.

A third attempt will be made to raise the rate by referendum on April 20.

And, it was brought out at last night's meeting, despite the fact that the school is getting deeper and deeper into debt, the teachers' salary scale and the cost of education per pupil are down at the bottom of the list of southern Illinois schools.

Must Stop Decline

This means, it was pointed out, that the school will be deteriorating to a second class institution unless something comes along to stop the decline, which is an increase in the tax rate in this case.

HTHS Principal Eltis F. Henson, a new man in town, presided at the meeting. School board members who sat on the stage of B Assembly were President George O. Davenport, Alfred Johnson, Ed Brantley, Bert Gaskins, Dr. W. J. Blackard, and Paul Endicott. Dr. W. D. Tuttle, the other member, was not in city and his place was taken by his father, Atty. O. P. Tuttle.

Mr. Henson began his remarks to a gathering that numbered about 75 by stating that on March 26 the board was forced to issue an anticipation warrant to get school operating money. The warrant, for $20,000, was the first ever issued in the history of the school. And, there is authority to issue $25,000 more.

Presents Facts

"We are not here to tell you that a tax increase to 86 cents must be passed. We're here to present the facts in the case and let you decide what you want to do."

He pointed out that during the past several years all kinds of costs have increased, that during this time the school attempted to operate on a 50-cent rate, which got worse year by year. For this year the state legislature permitted a rate increase to 65 cents, but this only cut down the deficit. It was estimated that 86 cents would be needed to retire the indebtedness and to run the school in the black.

It was pointed out by board

Graduates from Stewardess School

Miss Gracie I. Nemeth

Miss Gracie I. Nemeth of Harrisburg has graduated from Eastern Air Lines' stewardess training school in Miami, Florida, and has started her career as an EAL stewardess.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Nemeth, 213 East Raymond street, Miss Nemeth is a graduate of Harrisburg Township high school.

Prior to joining Eastern she was a secretary at the 5th Army Headquarters in Chicago, Ill.

On completion of her five-weeks' training course in Miami she was transferred to New York City where she will be based. From there she will fly to many cities on Eastern's system which covers 24 states and Puerto Rico.

Directors of Two Schools Discuss Consolidation

C. R. Gardner, county superintendent of schools, announced today that a joint meeting of the Board of Directors of Beulah Heights school, District No. 66, and the Old No. 10 school, District No. 98, was held at the Beulah Heights school Wednesday night, for the purpose of discussing plans to establish a community consolidated district.

Beulah Heights school received a full recognition status for the coming school year from the State Department of Public Instruction and has adequate building facilities to accommodate a considerable growth in school enrollment.

Old No. 10 which failed to receive recognition from the State Department for the coming school year plans to terminate their school at the close of this term and have indicated their desire to join with Beulah Heights.

The directors of the two school districts proposed that petitions be passed requesting the County Superintendent of Schools, C. R. Gardner, to call a special election to determine if the voters are in favor or opposed to a community consolidated district.

Presidential Committee Advises School Spending Be Doubled

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential committee said today that if Americans want decent schools for their children they must be prepared to double their present spending on education.

The recommendation that total U. S. school spending be boosted to 20 billion dollars a year "within the next decade" was the highlight of a 50,000-word report submitted to President Eisenhower at a White House ceremony.

The report was prepared by the 34-member committee for the White House Conference on Education. Mr. Eisenhower appointed the committee of prominent citizens last year to organize "the most thorough study" ever made of the nation's school system.

The committee also recommended: "Emergency" federal aid to states to build about 200,000 new classrooms as speedily as possible; "substantial increases" in teachers' salaries, with a view toward eventually doubling present pay scales; providing basic health and safety services to students in parochial and other private schools "at public expense," and calling a "White House conference on higher education" to study the problems of colleges and universities.

Religion and Athletics

The committee called for "a new look at the entire question of how much money this society should spend on education."

"In the richest nation in all history, there is no valid reason for the grimy, dilapidated and overcrowded school buildings which too many children now occupy," it said. "Most Americans would not permit their children to live in a house which is as bad as the school buildings which many pupils are forced to attend."

The voluminous report also touched on such controversial questions as segregation, the place of religious education in public schools and the role of athletics.

It said "the majority of the American people" want to abolish segregation as soon as possible but this goal "cannot be achieved with equal speed" in all areas.

The committee called for "continued study at community, state and national levels" of the sharply disputed question of "the extent to which public schools may take cognizance of religious values."

It said athletic programs should be "controlled so that they serve young people rather than use them" to build up a school or a community's competitive standing.

While deploring the physical condition of today's schools and the "acute" shortage of teachers, the committee emphasized that the nation's educators are doing a good job with what they have.

The report culminated a 16-month survey of the needs of the nation's school system. More than half a million persons took part in the study, at local and state conferences and at the White House Conference on Education held here last Nov. 24-Dec. 1.

Eisenhower to Seek Funds for Military Items

Congressional Sources Say Request Will Be 'Quite Large'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will ask Congress soon to boost defense appropriations for "critical items" such as guided missiles and aircraft, congressional sources said today.

The amount of the anticipated request was not revealed. But some informed sources said they expect it to be "quite large."

The disclosure follows Democratic criticism that the administration has been lagging in the weapons development race with Russia.

At recent hearings of the Senate Armed Services Committee, chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) asked the Air Force to furnish a breakdown on what use it would make of an extra $1½ billion dollars if Congress should vote it.

The Air Force has not yet replied, the committee said.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.), Senate Republican whip and ranking GOP member of the armed services group, and Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.), another committee member, conferred at the White House Wednesday with President Eisenhower on military matters, including the guided missile program.

Neither, however, would divulge details of the subjects covered.

Democratic members of the House Military Appropriations subcommittee and some senators have questioned the adequacy of the administration's defense budget.

The subcommittee has been holding closed-door hearings on President Eisenhower's defense program.

Cancer Fund Campaign is Launched Here

The month-long educational and fund-raising crusade of the Harrisburg unit of the American Cancer society was launched Wednesday, April 4, with a luncheon at Schriber's cafe.

Its goals are to reach every person in Harrisburg with life-saving facts about cancer and to raise monies for research, education, and service to patients. During the month, every adult resident in the city will be asked to strike a double blow at cancer — with a checkup and a check — a medical examination as a safeguard against that disease and a contribution to support research, educational, and service programs of the society.

Highlights of the launching of the crusade were remarks by Mrs. Nelson Pankey, campaign chairman for Harrisburg, telling how the drive will be conducted. Mrs. Pankey stated that the business section of Harrisburg will be solicited by members of Delta Alpha chapter of Delta Theta Tau sorority and will start immediately, and that Mrs. Donald Raymer will serve as drive treasurer for the 1956 campaign.

April 15th has been designated as Cancer Control Sunday, when congregations of all faiths will be asked to devote a portion of their service and prayers as the spiritual highlight of the campaign and on Monday, April 16, a door to door canvass will be made by volunteer workers. Those volunteer workers are urgently needed and anyone desiring to help in this worthy cause are asked to contact Mrs. Morris Skaggs, phone 1219R or 37. It is hoped that enough people, men or women will volunteer so that each person will have only one square block for solicitation. This will be done between the hours of 5 p. m. and 7 p. m.

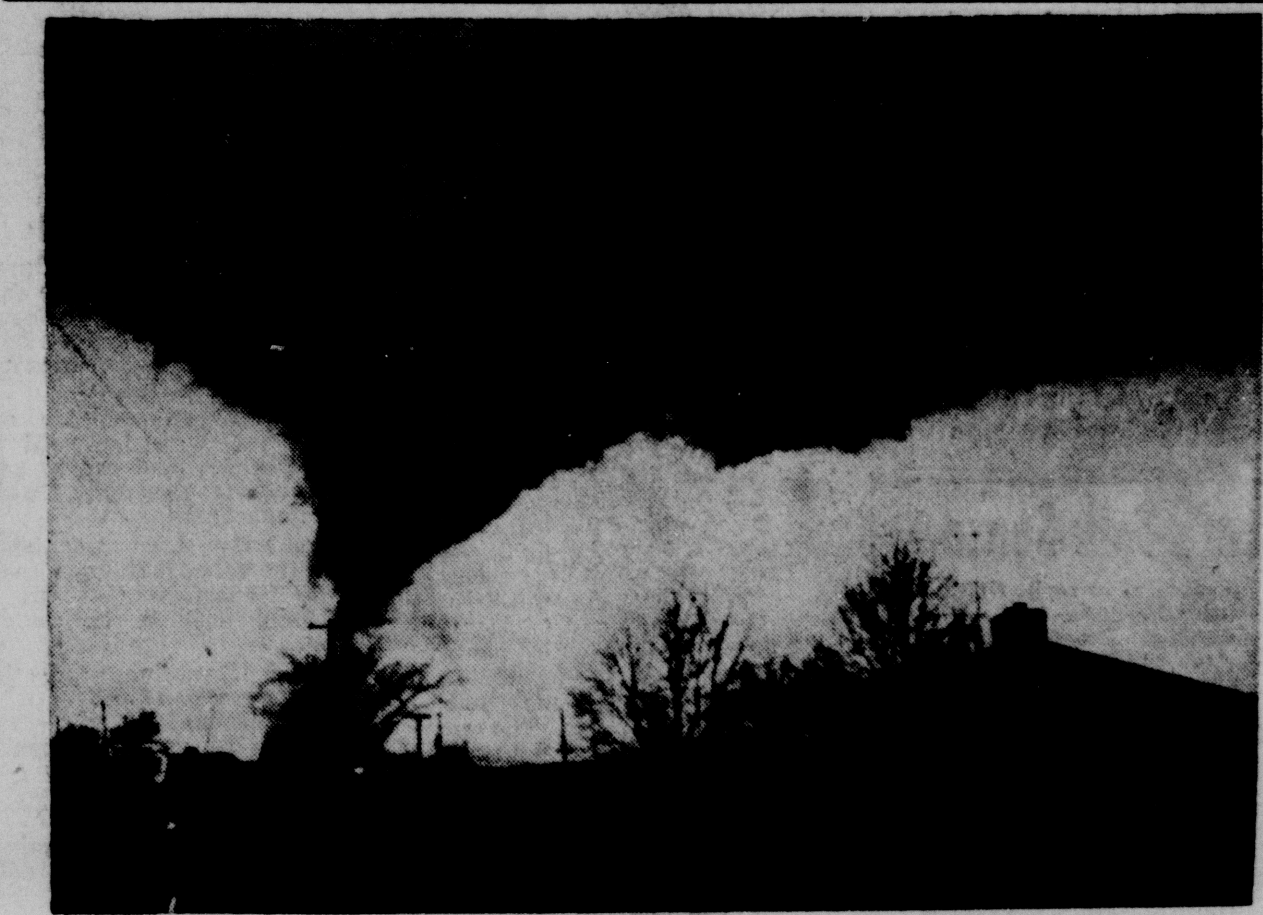

Besides soliciting funds, the volunteers will be carrying on a vital educational drive. At every home and business establishment visited, they will leave life-saving literature. This material accents hope and assurance in the cancer fight. It points out the great importance of periodic health examinations as a safeguard against that disease and tells of cancer's 7 danger signals.

The slogan for the 1956 Cancer Crusade is "Fight Cancer with a Check-up and a Check."

Methodist Church to Celebrate Centennial

The First Methodist church of Harrisburg will celebrate its Centennial May 6 through 12 and is seeking the names and addresses of members and friends that they may be notified. Persons having this information are asked to call the church office No. 232, or Mrs. Ray Johnson, 239W.

Merle Cox Buys SEIEC Garage

The Southeastern Illinois Electric co-operative, which moved its headquarters to Eldorado a few years ago but retained its garage building on Route 45 here, has sold this building to Merle Cox of this city.

The structure will be vacated by June 1, it was learned.

Tom Clevenger, SEIEC manager, announced that a new metal warehouse building of 100 by 40 feet dimensions will be constructed at the headquarters site on Route 142 south of Eldorado, and that the electrical maintenance shop now at Harrisburg will be moved there.

A pole storage yard also will be provided at Eldorado.

Begin Assessing Property Here

Assessors this week began making assessments of real and personal property upon which the taxes payable in 1957 will be based.

Clyde Hess, Harrisburg township assessor, has set up offices in the Midkiff building on the southwest corner of the square. His deputy assessors are M. C. Shell, John Bert Pierson and Jessie Spangler. Bernice Maynard is employed in the office.

Karbers Ridge Man Dies

William Hollan, resident of Karbers Ridge, died in the Pearce hospital at 6:30 yesterday morning.

The body has been taken to the Rose funeral home in Cave-in-Rock and funeral plans are incomplete.

Austin Discusses Japanese Education At Meeting of Historical Society

The Saline County Historical society met in the club room of the Public Library for the regular April meeting Tuesday night.

Miss Dorothy Hanning of HTHS, accompanied by John Schork at the piano, gave two vocal numbers.

President Louis Aaron announced that W. H. Farley, Ray Altmire, Geo. Davenport and E. B. Webster composed the new board of directors. The committee appointments were:

Program: John Foster, chairman, W. H. Farley, Ray Durham, Paul Hatfield and Ada Reese.

Membership: Mrs. Ray Altmire, Mrs. Louis Aaron, Mrs. Ida Choiser.

Flowers: Mrs. Ownley Furman, Mrs. D. F. Rumsey.

Hospitality: Mrs. Clarence Bosket, Mrs. Madeline Holdaway.

Publicity: Mrs. J. D. Morse.

During the business meeting it was decided to buy a cabinet and reels of tape for the recording of historical addresses, interviews, and comments meriting a preservation for future use.

Mrs. Ownley Furman graciously offered space for the storage of the society's collection of items, now improperly housed because of the lack of a museum.

Lt. Joseph Rude Parachutes to Safety When Sabrejet Explodes

A Harrisburg flier, First Lt. Joseph Rude, escaped death last night when his crippled Sabrejet plane crashed in flames.

The 25-year-old Illinois pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rude of this city, parachuted to safety near Mount Clemens, Mich., when his plane exploded and caught fire.

Lt. Rude suffered only a scratch on the nose.

He said he bailed out of the plane at 1,500 feet when its after-section burst into flame shortly after he took off from Selfridge Field. He said he had flown the plane once before and it had functioned perfectly.

He walked to a nearby road after landing and hailed a passing motorist, who happened to be a fire chief, and was driven to a Mount Clemens hospital. He was taken to the base hospital from there.

Lt. Rude, a graduate of West Point Military academy in 1954 and of the Harrisburg Township high school, where he was center on the championship football team of 1948, the following spring, telephoned his parents following the incident.

He told them that he was the middle plane in a flight of three that took off from the base, and that when he heard an explosion behind him, he parachuted out. The plane crashed between two houses between Mt. Clemens and Detroit and Lt. Rude landed in a muddy field.

He and his wife visited his parents here and her parents at Eldorado the week before Easter en route to his new assignment at Selfridge Field.

HTHS Hi-Tri Elects Officers

Mary Jane Gibbons, Janice Gidcumb, Joan Priest and Lee Anna Cummins have been elected to head the Hi-Tri in the 1956-1957 school year at the Harrisburg Township high school.

The new officers were nominated by a committee whose selections were approved by the Hi-Tri organization. All of the newly-elected officers have been very active in Hi-Tri since their freshman year.

This year the Harrisburg Hi-Tri will be hostess to the other Hi-Tri girls at their spring conference to be held April 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have four other children.

The Thornton funeral home of Stonefort was in charge.

Hammaraskjold's Mission Race Against Time

Ceasefires Effected By UN, But Middle East Near All-Out War

JERUSALEM (Israeli Sector) — Egyptian and Israeli guns thundered again today at Gaza, pushing the Middle East closer to the brink of all out war.

Israel flatly warned United Nations officials it will shoot back whenever Egypt fires.

Egyptian and Israeli batteries blasted each other today for more than an hour in the second major outbreak of fighting within 24 hours. Today's casualties were not announced.

The death toll in Thursday's fighting rose to 45 when Israel announced that 3 Israelis were killed in the bombardment that shook the refugee-filled Gaza strip. Another 116 persons were wounded, 6 of them Israelis.

Blame Each Other

Egypt and Israel blamed each other for starting Thursday's shooting and renewing it today. United Nations intervention effected cease fires, ending both outbreaks.

The deteriorating situation was turning U. N. Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjold's Middle East mission into a race against time—and a possible war. He leaves New York by plane at 4 p. m. CST today.

The situation was so grave that Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the U. N. truce supervisor, cancelled a flight today to Rome where he was to have met Hammarskjold on Saturday.

In Cairo, loud speakers inflamed the populace with reports of the Palestinians killed in the fighting an army spokesman said was started by Israel.

In Tel Aviv a Foreign Office spokesman accused Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of trying to keep the crisis at the boiling point, and said Egypt was guilty of a flagrant breach of the armistice.

Israel's military spokesman said Egyptian guns opened up at 8 a. m. on an Israeli unit in Kisufim, a key Israeli communications center astride the Gaza frontier and spread an hour later to the Bealry sector six miles north.

Communication Lines Cut

Egypt's military spokesman said the Israel guns began firing first and poured shell after shell into the Gaza strip for an hour without letup.

A dispatch from Cairo said the United Press bureau had been unable to get through to its correspondent in Gaza, an indication that communications were cut during the fighting.

A U. N. spokesman said both sides agreed to accept another cease-fire this morning and that the border was quiet. Fifteen truce observers rushed to the front lines to fill in U. N. headquarters in New York on latest developments.

Burns cabled Hammarskjold he would await him at the "Hill of Good Counsel" overlooking the Israeli-Jordan no man's land outside Jerusalem.

Cairo dispatches said informed circles there were expressing fear that the battles might be the prelude to open and major hostilities.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Marshal Zhukov Emerging As Strong Man Of Russia; Hate-Mongers Plan Smear Of Major Party Candidates; Man Who Gets No Pay Combats
Communist Trade.

WASHINGTON. — U. S. Amba-
sador Chip Bohlen took a trip
from Moscow to Rome the other day, officially on a vacation. Real reason behind his trip, however,
was to send a secret cablegram
to Eisenhower on the turmoil in Russia. He went to Rome in order to use the high-speed transmission of the American embassy
messenger to the Russians under no circumstances could interfere with his message.

Nubbin of Bohlen's report was that Marshal Georgi Zhukov, co-
commander of Germany with Eisenhower after V-E Day, may emerge as the most powerful man
in Russia.

Unrest has spread through the Soviet. Bohlen wired. How serious it is is difficult to guess, and American observers have to do just that—guess. However, Boh-len indicated he was not guessing
when he reported that the army
is solidly behind Zhukov and that Zhukov has become the No. 2 man
in Russia, second only to party boss Khrushchev.

Bohlen reported that Khrushchev can probably consolidate his power despite the turmoil over Stalin and remain in office for the time being, depending upon when

and if Marshal Zhukov wants to strike.

Note — Even in Moscow, old men and women openly cry in front of Stalin's tomb, refusing to believe he was the tyrant and blunderer he is now pictured.

HATE-MONGERS

Some of the hate groups so actively in the 1952 campaign are already maneuvering to snipe at Eisenhower, Kefauver and Stevenson.

They have adopted the technique of latching on to some of the splinter party groups who want to get away from the American
two-party system and veer over to the French system of myriad parties and myriad confusion.

For some reason or other, retired admirals and generals seem to be the easiest prey for these splinter movements. Perhaps it's because they don't understand politics. Some of them are also naively putting themselves in the position of opposing their own ex-
military man in the White House.

One of these splinter movements
is led by Clarence Manion, ex-
dean of the Notre Dame law school, whom Ike fired as chairman of the Commission on Inter-Governmental Relations and who has now organized "For America." Manion is no hatist, but a lot of hatists are clinging to his coattails.

Allied with Manion is Gen. Robert Wood of Sears, Roebuck, former head of "America First."

Manion, Wood, et al, are trying to get enough independent slates
of presidential electors picked to break the weight of the two major parties and throw the final election into the House of Representatives. There they hope anti-Eisenhower Republicans and Dixiecrats
could swing the balance of power.
Gen. George Stratemeyer, retired, is part of this movement.
Adm. John Crommelin, who was eased out of the Navy during its B-36 row with the Air Force, is another malcontent. He is trying to run against veteran Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama.

CROSS-CURRENTS

Meanwhile, a new book, Cross-Currents, by Ben Epstein and Ar-
old Forster, gives a penetrating insight into the hate hangers-on who have attached themselves to the splinter groups.

"The hate groups," diagnose Epstein and Forster, "are welded to one another by the anti-Semitism they all exploit; latter-day
Know-Nothings who in their fear
of communism oppose civil liberties as a weakness in our ramparts; extreme political reactionaries who are unable or unwilling to recognize the bigots among those joining their movement."

As part of the stop-ike movement, the hatists have started smearing his brother Milton as a dangerous New Dealer. Gerald L.
K. Smith even points to the naming of Ike's mountain retreat in Maryland, "Camp David," as sinister. References are creeping out regarding the alleged "Eisenhower Red record." And Smith is repeating what he did in '52—
citing the 1915 West Point Year Book and its kidding reference to Eisenhower as a "Swedish Jew"
as proof that Eisenhower is Jewish.

Note — A secret meeting held in Chicago's Conrad Hilton hotel on January 27 to discuss ways of stopping Ike included such notorious pamphleteers as Merwin K. Hart of New York, Myron Fagan of Los Angeles, and West Hooker of Larchmont, N. Y. They agreed on various tactics, both open and underground, aimed at the candidates of the two major parties.

BRASSIERES AT BANGKOK

A dollar-a-year man who has done one of the best jobs of combating communism is Roy F. Williams, Commerce Department official who bosses Uncle Sam's exhibits at international trade fairs.

The Boston industrialist has traveled 100,000 miles to set up shows of American products. Here are some of his accomplishments:
—Forcing the Russians to back
out of fairs at Bangkok, Lyons, Paris, Tokyo and Djakarta — after the Communists learned of U.
S. plans for spectacular exhibits
and feared they couldn't compete.

—Ending the period enjoyed by the Communists between 1950 and 1954 when they displayed goods at 133 fairs without any threat of U.
S. competition.

—Concentrating this year on the Far East, where the Red threat is greatest, but where curiosity
about the U. S. way of life is widespread.

In addition to combating communism abroad, Williams also finds time to combat juvenile delinquency at home.

Though he made only $10 a week on his first job as an advertising salesman for Vogue Magazine, he began devoting his leisure hours to underprivileged kids,

became so absorbed in his hobby
that he has continued ever since.
One kid who benefited from Williams' softheartedness was Frank Elkins, son of a Russian immigrant on the lower East Side
and a member of the Tompkins Square Boys Club of New York.

Elkins was a fancy boxer. Encouraged by Williams, he worked his way through N. Y. U., became Babe Ruth's handball partner,
finally ended up as sports writer
for the New York Times. Today Elkins is Williams' public relations chief at the Commerce Department. They met in Washington, after not seeing each other for 30 years.

Note — Williams will soon ask Congress for a big boost in funds
over his present $2,500,000 a year for trade fairs. The man he will have to convince is Rep. John Rooney (D., N. Y.), chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee who last year lashed the Commerce Department mercilessly for exhibiting brassieres at a trade fair in Bangkok.

Illinois to Lower Age for Children In Vaccine Program

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — Illinois
will lower the eligible age for children to receive Salk polio vaccine
from 5 years to 1. Dr. Ruth Church, in charge of the vaccine distribution program, said today.

Extension of the eligible age group from 5-14 to 1-14 will be made sometime next week, said
Dr. Church, of the State Public Health Department.

She said the action was being taken in the belief that enough vaccine will be available shortly to supply the demand for the younger children.

She said if vaccine production
continues at the March rate, it should not be too long before vaccine for the younger children is available.

Thinking It Over

By Robert Dieffenbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service

Eye appeal is used strategically by advertisers in order to sell products to customers. A picture,
a graphic illustration or an outstanding use of color appeals to the observer who pauses to study
the illustration.

If the eye has been caught and
a product has been advertised,
the viewer becomes a prospective customer. The presentation may be of such interest that the customer becomes a product user
and a potential salesman himself.

We may not all be models who have our pictures appearing in full color on the printed page. We are, however, living illustrations of our beliefs. If we are happy people who put our faith in God
and in man, we have smiles on our faces. We show our confidence and our lack of suspicion in our comfortable way of living.

Many people spend little time
reading the Bible or even the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke
and John. But every day people observe you and me. They notice whether we pattern our lives
after the religions we profess. Our actions indicate whether we have a deep faith in God and whether we treat others as we like to be treated.

As a poet once said, "The only gospel some men will read is the 'Gospel according to You'."

What kind of a story does your life tell?

Daniel said the best man would be John Knox Barrow Jr., of Ashok, N. C., the operator of a lumber mill. Barrow and Daniel, who is an assistant to the foreign editor of the New York Times, grew up on the same street in Zebulon, N. C., where Daniel's parents still live.

Southwest Areas Again Hit By Tornadoes

By United Press
Tornadoes returned to the Southwest on the heels of one of the most devastating twister barrages in the nation's history.

A tornado damaged from 150 to 200 homes at Bryan, Tex., Thursday, but there were no deaths or injuries. Police said probably the reason was that it was a rooftop twister which never did "get right down to the ground."

A small private plane larded safely at Houston, Tex., after authorities feared it might have run into the tornado. The pilot, Allick Clarkson of Paul's Spur, Ariz., said he saw the tornado shortly after taking off from Bryan, but "gave the plane the gas" and outran the black funnel.

Another tornado funnel was sighted above Port Arthur, Tex., but apparently did not touch the ground. Up to four inches of rain doused the state and four persons were killed when their car crashed on a rain-slicked highway.

It was the first re-appearance of tornadoes in the Southwest since an onslaught of twisters came raging out of the area Monday night.

National Red Cross headquarters in Washington said its survey showed 46 "verified" deaths in the two-day, 12-state storm. There were 800 injured, 389 homes destroyed, 1,272 homes damaged, and 1,560 families affected, the Red Cross said.

The Texas storm system drove into the lower Mississippi Valley, touching off the second day of drenching rains in a row in the Southland.

Ronnie Doerge To Speak To Harrisburg Woman's Club

The Harrisburg Woman's Club which will meet in the public library Monday, April 9, at 2 p. m. will have a program on the "Use of Portraits in the Homes" by Ronnie Doerge.

His talk will include ways to tie portraits in with the decor of the room, type of portraits to use in various places and placement and arrangements that may be worked out.

A film entitled "M-Day for the Spencers" illustrating the use of portraits in the home in today's new modern decorating, will also be shown.

Chairman for the afternoon will be Mrs. L. I. Webb.

Mrs. Floyd Lacy will give the meditation and a solo will be sung by Mrs. Herman Davis.

Hostesses will be Mrs. T. R. McCormick, Mrs. Charles McKenzie and Mrs. M. P. McDonald. All members are asked to take advantage of this interesting program.

Too Late for Soil Bank: Shuman

CHICAGO — The president of the American Farm Bureau Federation said Thursday night that it is "too late" for a soil bank plan to be of any benefit to farmers this year.

Charles B. Shuman, at a meeting of the Bankers Club of Chicago, said farmers would be within their rights to hold "Congress accountable for any bad farm legislation they might pass now under the guise of the urgency of the situation."

He said that it is too late for farmers to change spring planting plans. If legislation is passed in the next week it would take 60 days to put a soil bank plan into effect, he said.

By that time, he said, farmers would have to plow up much of their crops in order to participate.

Receives 180-
Year Prison Term
For Tavern Slaying

MOUND CITY, Ill. (AP)—Alfred Reahm, alias Al Masters, 37, Cairo, Thursday was sentenced to 180 years in prison for the Feb. 23 murder of tavern keeper Clate Adams.

Reahm pleaded guilty at his arraignment in Pulaski County Circuit Court before Judge Ross Reynolds.

Norman Halliday, also indicted for murder in the case, was scheduled to be arraigned at the same time, but his appearance was continued. He may be arraigned today.

Sheriff Robert Aldrich said Masters and Halliday were in Adams' tavern near Olmsted on the day of the murder and started an argument with Adams. Adams was shot as he went for a gun. Aldrich said robbery appeared to be the motive for the slaying.

Masters and Halliday fled, and were arrested later at Cairo.

Chief of Nylon Patrol Hopes Wife Understands as Stockings Run Wild

CHICAGO (U) — The head of Chicago's "nylon patrol" tried to discover today why stockings are running wild in the city.

It's a tricky business because Edmund Kosciuch often has to inspect the stockings while they are on the hoof.

Kosciuch is combustion engineer for the city Air Pollution Department. He became chief of the "nylon patrol" when stockings began popping and running with wild abandon in an area west of the Loop this week.

The great stocking stampede began Tuesday at the Sterling Products, Inc. plant.

Run Epidemic Spreads

The girls turned up to work with well-sheathed legs. Then one said "I've got a run." Another said "I've got six." The epidemic spread down the legs of 17 women and even nylon underwear was not immune.

Since then, stocks have run wild in offices throughout the region and there's no end in sight. About 40 women have looked down to find their stockings in shreds.

Kosciuch was assigned to investigate every angle of the stocking mystery. He admitted it's nice work.

"All I've done is look at girl's legs," he said. "Shapely legs, skinny legs, stout legs—all kinds. I've looked at stockings under the microscope, in the test tube, and on the hoof."

"Maybe I should be paying the city."

Quarter-Sized Holes

Kosciuch said as many as 17 runs have zipped down a woman's hose in a few minutes. Other women have reported holes the size of quarters in stockings which are supposed to be run-proof.

There are various possible explanations, he said. Maybe the runs are caused by dust or acid particles blown into Chicago by strong west winds early this week. Maybe some kind of sulphuric acid fumes are getting into the offices. Kosciuch's big worry is whether his wife understands his assignment is strictly in the line of duty.

"We've been married about two years," he said. "It's the first test of her tolerance."

Ike to Resume Receiving Foreign Envoys

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower Saturday will resume receiving foreign diplomats in person when they present their credentials.

The practice was dropped after Mr. Eisenhower suffered his heart attack last September, but the White House said Friday it is being resumed.

The first diplomat to present his credentials will be George A. Padmore, the new Liberian ambassador, who will call on Mr. Eisenhower Saturday morning.

After Mr. Eisenhower became ill, new envoys presented their credentials to the secretary of state who forwarded them to the President. Thirteen ambassadors were accredited under this system. After his recuperation, the President entertained 12 of this group at lunch. The new Japanese ambassador, Masayuki Tani, was unable to attend, but Mr. Eisenhower invited the Japanese envoy to call at the White House instead this afternoon.

There have been reports that the diplomats were unhappy about not being received by the President. News Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked whether Mr. Eisenhower decided to resume the diplomatic ceremony because of this.

"Not in the slightest," Hagerty replied.

WCTU Spring Institute at Eldorado Friday

The Spring Institute of Saline County Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held Friday, April 13, at the Church of Christ in Eldorado, beginning at 9:45 a. m.

The program is as follows: Opening song; devotion by Mrs. Bee Holland of Harrisburg; roll call; round table discussion of problems; playlet by the Texas City Union; reading "It Fits Your Need" by Mrs. Pearl Aaron; noon-tide prayer, Mrs. Millie Skelton.

Following a covered dish luncheon the afternoon program will begin at 1:30 with a song. Devotions will be given by Mrs. George Fowler of Harrisburg. Mrs. Bertie Hall of Eldorado will give the welcoming speech and the response will be by Mrs. Myra Weir of Raleigh. A reading will be given by Mrs. Noble Moye of Ridgeway. Mrs. C. W. Brannum of Eldorado will sing a solo, and Mrs. Constance Houle of West Frankfort, formerly National Director of Loyal Temperance Legion, will bring the message.

The public is invited.

Stratton Designates Mental Health Week

SPRINGFIELD (U) — The week of April 29-May 5 today was designated by Gov. William G. Stratton as "Illinois Mental Health Week" to coincide with National Mental Health Week.

The governor said the purpose of the observance was to "focus public attention on what can and must be done for our mentally ill and to keep others from becoming ill. No other cause before the public today is more important."

Highlight of the observance will be Illinois' eighth annual mental health dinner to be held in Chicago May 3.

Father Convicted For Son's Death

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (U) — A Circuit Court jury convicted a 22-year-old father of manslaughter Thursday night in the death of his 8-month-old son.

Judge Herbert Criss said he would impose a mandatory 2-to-21-year prison sentence next week on Edward L. Moore, Terre Haute, an Air Force veteran.

In a written confession Moore was quoted as saying he hurled his son, Edward Jr., to the floor of their apartment last Dec. 2 because the boy "annoyed" him while he was reading.

But on the witness stand, Moore repudiated the confession.

Stevenson Wins Endorsement of State Delegation

Signed by Senator
Douglas and 12
Representatives

By United Press

Adlai E. Stevenson won endorsement by Illinois' Democratic congressional delegation, while backers of Ohio Gov. Frank Lausche claimed a "fine response" today.

Activity picked up on the Republican front, too, with the state's primary only four days off.

The endorsement of Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination by Illinois' 12 Democratic representatives also was signed by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, a Kefauver supporter in 1952.

Lausche's name will not be on the April 10 Democratic ballot, but his backers in Chicago said they were getting a "fine response" to a campaign for write-in votes for him.

On the Republican side, the Illinois "Citizens for Eisenhower" warned GOP voters against "complacency" in the primary and called for a large vote. Mr. Eisenhower has only nominal opposition in the Republican preferential primary.

State Treas. Warren E. Wright, who is opposing Gov. William G. Stratton for the Republican nomination for governor, scheduled the windup of his downstate campaign at Springfield today with a parade from the airport on his arrival and a radio speech.

Stengel Blasts GOP

Also at Springfield, the Sangamon County Republican Central Committee will hold a rally for a Stratton and other candidates on the incumbent "team." Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, who has primary opposition from Chicago Ald. Nicholas J. Bohling, will be principal speaker.

Stratton will be at Bloomington for a Jaycee home show. He told a Joliet audience Thursday night that four-laning of U. S. 66 from Chicago to St. Louis will save motorists' lives as well as time.

Joliet is on U. S. 66, and Stratton said, "the people here can see at first hand the tangible progress made by this administration."

About 1,500 Democratic ward committeemen and precinct workers turned out at Chicago to hear Richard Stengel, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate blast Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and the GOP as being "soused with power, soused with reaction, soused with greed, and soused with the idea of running the country for the few instead of for all the people."

Horbert C. Paschen, Democratic organization candidate for governor, said in a statement his primary opponent, Morris B. Sachs, "should make a public apology to those citizens serving as precinct judges and election clerks for saying he would demand a recount if he loses."

B47 Crashes; Four Killed

CERESCO, Neb. (U) — A B-47 with four men aboard crashed here today, killing all four men aboard.

The plane was from the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Some residents of the area saw the plane plummet to the ground and explode with a "blinding flash."

A crowd of 500 to 600 people rushed to the scene. Parts of the plane, scattered over a three-mile radius, still were burning.

Vernon Saunders, 9, said he saw the plane crash. His father, Frank Saunders, editor of the weekly Ceresco News, said he was one of the first persons to reach the scene.

He said the only thing he saw that wasn't on fire was an opened parachute—empty.

The B47 took off on a routine flight about 11:25 a. m. CST and crashed about 11:40 a. m. The crash occurred about three miles south and a half mile east of here. Ceresco is about 12 miles north of Lincoln.

Consider State Agency to Meet Problems of Aged

SPRINGFIELD (U) — State Sen. Robert E. Cherry (D-Chicago) said Thursday the Illinois commission on the aged and aging is considering creation of a new state agency in the Welfare Department to help meet the problems of older persons.

Cherry, who sponsored the bill establishing the commission, said many persons in the 45-65 age group often are out of work because firms refuse to hire them, preferring younger persons.

Cherry told the 16th annual meeting of the Illinois Public Health Assn. "I am hopeful that our commission will propose specific legislation to discourage such practices."

Garrett W. Keaster, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, also discussed the problems of the aged at the meeting, which continued today.

Father of Dean Brothers Dies

BEGGS, Okla. (U) — Albert Monroe Dean, father of baseball brothers J. Hannah (Dizzy) Dean and Paul (Daffy) Dean, was buried here Thursday beside the grave of his mother.

Dean, 32, was a resident of Texas for the past 30 years.

"Our father was always a hard worker," Paul Dean said of his father today. "He was a good provider for the family."

HTHS Financial Plight Explained

members that pay increases for personnel was in the plan if the rate hike is approved.

Mr. Henson also pointed out that the school was getting two and a half times as much state aid in 1948 as it is getting at present.

Gardner Endorses Plan

C. R. Gardner, county superintendent of schools, in endorsing the program set up by the board, emphasized that "this is not for buildings or extra-curricular activities, but solely for educational purposes."

He pointed to the decline of four million dollars in valuations in the district during the past two years, which was responsible for the big cut in high school operating revenue.

"The problem is further compounded by the rising cost of living," he stated. "The need for financial assistance is acute or the horizon will be dark in the future."

W. B. Welch, school treasurer, gave figures which showed that the state aid in 1948 was $30,000, in 1951 $18,000, in 1955 $12,050. During the 1954-55 school year, with a 50-cent rate, the educational fund was overdrawn about $42,000, and with the 65-cent rate this year the total will be increased to around $70,000.

Welch said that several of the country school districts are paying more than some of the HTHS teachers are getting.

Davenport Praises Henson

Mr. Davenport, who said he didn't like taxes any better than anybody else, but said that sometimes they are necessary, pointed to increased operating costs these days. He told of the Harrisburg Methodist church, where the operating costs were about $9,200 a year ten years ago compared with $25,000 annually today.

Mr. Davenport gave high praise to Mr. Henson, serving his first year as principal.

"In my opinion we have another Harry Taylor," he said.

Mr. Davenport said that with a salary scale for teachers of $2,600 to $3,600 "I sometimes wonder why we have any teachers in this school at all."

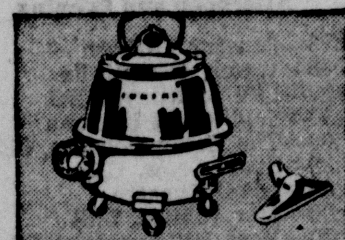

Other school board members and persons in the audience gave their views on the matter and ways of organizing were discussed. Mr. Tuttle gave his ideas on ways of organizing to get out a favorable vote and it was planned to take the facts to the local organizations, to the graduated HTHS classes, and into the outlying districts.

Armed Bandits Rob Bank of $50,000

FLINT, Mich. (U) — A group of three or four masked bandits held up the Citizen's Commercial Savings Bank branch here today.

Police said it appeared the men had fled with about $50,000 scooped from the bank's cash drawers.

Bank officials sounded a bank alarm while the robbery was in progress and police quickly set up blockades in the area. Shortly afterwards the getaway car was found abandoned about 10 blocks from the scene.

Ken Venturi Takes Early Lead in Master's Tourney With Amateur Low of 66

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The Sneads
and Hogans may eventually win
the coveted Masters title, but young Ken Venturi was the newest example today that the amateurs always have a chance in this unique event.

Two years ago it was Billy Joe Patton who came within one reckless hole of winning the tournament. Venturi, a 24-year-old California comet, played with Billy Joe Thursday and that may have had something to do with his amazing

first-round performance.
But Venturi, holding a 66, the lowest round ever posted by an amateur in 20 Masters tournaments, also gave credit to his recent tutor, Byron Nelson, himself
a double Masters winner.

"I owe this round to Nelson,"
the 24-year-old San Francisco auto salesman said. "When I came out of the Army last Oct. 27, I played several exhibitions with Nelson."
"Byron went to Palm Springs with me. He worked with me for two full, solid weeks. He showed me the different little things he learned over the years."

Venturi, a former Walker Cup player making his second Masters
appearance with infantry service
in Austria in between, held only a one-stroke lead over defending champion Cary Middlecoff with three other tough competitors under 70. They were Shelly Mayfield of Westbury, N. Y., and Tommy Belt of Chattanooga, Tenn.,
with 68's and the redoubtable Ben Hogan at 69.

Sam Snead, advance favorite with Hogan and Middlecoff, shot
what on any other day would have been a creditable 73, but this time left him back in the pack because there also were three 70's, two 71's and six par 72's.

This unprecedented first-day
scoring in the Masters was made possible by an unexpected downpour early Thursday which undid
what a dry wind had done the day
before to quicken the course.

Venturi, who has gobbled up
West Coast amateur titles in recent years and defeated National Amateur champion Harvie Ward
in the San Francisco city event,
was the first to discover the vulnerability of the wide greens and he capitalized in spectacular fashion. He birdied the first four holes with single putts including a 25-foot.

Carrier Mills Beats Galatia, 14-1

In a high school baseball game played Thursday afternoon at Carrier Mills the home team romped past Galatia 14-1.

A big six-run third inning gave Carrier Mills the decisive victory.
J. C. Storms, Carrier Mills shortstop, was the game's leading hitter with two safe blows.

In gaining the win Carrier Mills scored 14 runs on seven hits and made three errors. Galatia scored one run, made one hit and committed nine errors.

Evans started on the mound for CM, with Cowger, Reid and Absher also taking a turn at pitching. Collins was the catcher. Boat-right and Hanks were the starting battery for Galatia.

Next Tuesday afternoon Carrier
Mills will play the Harrisburg Bull
Dogs on the Taylor field diamond.

Russ Meyer Goes Route as Cubs Beat Orioles, 16-4

By United Press

An old Braves Rickey axiom is haunting the Brooklyn Dodgers.
When the old Mahatma was general manager of the Dodgers, he frequently contended that "The best deals are those you never make."

And who could blame the Dodgers today if they were wishing they had never traded Russ Meyer to the Chicago Cubs?

Beset by pitching problems, the world champions must have cringed Thursday when they learned that Meyer became the first Cubs'
pitcher to go nine innings as he posted a seven-hit, 16-4 victory
over the Baltimore Orioles.

Meyer walked only two men and allowed but two earned runs in his route-going effort against the Orioles at Alpine, Tex.

Carl Erskine got a rough going-over by the Milwaukee Braves as the Dodgers dropped an 8-6 decision at New Orleans. The Brooks' right-hander was nicked for seven runs and 10 of Milwaukee's 11 hits
in five innings.

Larry Doby collected three hits
that helped the White Sox to a 10-7 victory at Albany, Ga. It was only the third defeat in the last 15 games for the Cardinals, the Capefruit league leaders.

At Corpus Christi, Tex., Herb Score allowed only two hits and fanned seven in five innings as the Cleveland Indians handed the New York Giants their second straight 2-0 shutout.

Johnny Temple's one-out single in the ninth inning scored the winning run as the Cincinnati Redlegs
nipped the Washington Senators, 4-3, at Fort Gordon, Ga., while Dick Littlefield allowed only two hits during an eight-inning stint
in pitching the Pittsburgh Pirates
to a 6-1 triumph over the Kansas City Athletics.

Dodgers' Billy Loes Enters Hospital

BROOKLYN (AP)—Billy Loes, Brooklyn Dodger pitcher who is suffering arm trouble again, has entered Long Island College hospital for a complete checkup to determine whether he will be able to pitch at all this summer. Loes has had recurring arm trouble in the past and this spring the sore-ness lingered, prompting the checkup.

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

Southern Illinois university has awarded its first varsity letter to a female. Marguerite (Sugar) Ben-inati, freshman from Pinckneyville,
was awarded a gym letter at a sports banquet in Carbondale Monday evening. Miss Beninati, a top notch baton twirler, was one of the highlights of the SIU gym show,
which was presented to more than 20 southern Illinois and Missouri communities during the past four months.

Before entering SIU Miss Beni-nati was a grade school and high school baton twirling champion.

"An unusual thing happened in this track meet," Al Adams, athletic director at Eldorado high school, remarked in discussing the recent Eldorado-Carmi meet. Adams stated he was clocking his mile runners throughout their race
and the lead runner, who went on to take the event, covered the first half mile in 2:11. Later the half mile event was won at 2:12.4, a full second slower.

Eldorado and Carmi tracksters
came up with some fine performances for so early in the season.
Lovelllette put the shot 50 feet, 3 inches; Winters of Carmi broad jumped 20 feet, 11 inches; Bob Watson of Eldorado won the mile at 4:50.8. All exceptionally good.
And there were others that rank
well above others turned in at other meets in this section.

Murphysboro, district track winner in 1955, has lost the services
of its ace quarter-miler, John Winn.
Winn also is a top golfer and has decided to devote full time this spring to golf.

Eldorado, third place finisher in the 1955 district meet, gained some strength this week. Acie Gwalt-ney, a consistent point winner as a hurdler, runner and jumper, dropped out of track in the middle of last season and didn't report with the first call for candidates this year. However, he has told Coach Al Adams he wants to come out
now. If he can regain his old form
he will be a good addition to the squad.

The annual spring football clinic
at the University of Illinois April 20-21 will be attended by more than 500 high school coaches, advance registration indicates.

Two college and two high school
coaches will head the clinic, co-sponsored by the U. of I. Athletic Association and the Illinois High School Coaches Association.

The speakers will be Paul F.
Dietzel, Louisiana State university;
Len Watters, Williams college mentor; Emery Ebbert of Elgin high school and Leodio Cabutti of Herrin.

Topnotch speakers are scheduled to appear at the SIU sponsored fall sports clinic, to be held Aug.

Stevenson Says Sen. Kefauver Neglects Duties

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson said today his Democratic presidential rival, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, has neglected his Senate duties to campaign for the presidency and added that "there may be such a thing as wanting to be president too badly."

Stevenson came here after a three-day respite on a Kingsland, Ga., plantation for a lunch speech and day of barnstorming which opened his campaigning for the May 29 Florida presidential primary. Kefauver wound up a three-day Florida campaign tour on Wednesday.

In his lunch address to a group of lawyers, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate and former Illinois governor said Kefauver, who has beaten him soundly in two recent primaries, "share Republican enthusiasm for my political extinction."

He ticked off the occasions when, he said, Kefauver has been absent from the Senate during passage of important bills during the last eight years. It was the strongest personal attack thus far in the campaign for Stevenson, who agreed with his backers that he should "get tough" after Kefauver defeated him in the Minnesota primary.

Stevenson also reiterated his charge that Kefauver unfairly accused him of gathering party bosses behind his campaign and telling party members how to vote.

"There may be such a thing as wanting to be president too badly and that may be one reason why none of Kefauver's colleagues in the Senate and so few of the party leaders around the country have endorsed him," Stevenson said.

Airman Killed In Auto Accident

MAHOMET, Ill. (AP) — A 20-year-old airman was killed Thursday and three other persons were injured when their car went out of control near here.

Harlon A. Larson was pinned under the car and killed. Don Wykoff, Champaign County coroner, said he believed Larson was from Chicago.

The injured were Robert C. Ahlin, about 20, Chicago, in critical condition; and Earl Marchant Jr., 25, Rhodell, W. Va., and Donald Anderson, 21, Chicago.

The accident occurred when the car overturned on a gravel road three miles northeast of Mahomet.

Ceiling Collapses In Chicago School

CHICAGO (AP) — Officials today considered closing the Hayes Elementary School, where a 100-square-foot section of ceiling collapsed, endangering 44 pupils in the second grade.

The ceiling section in the 89-year-old school crashed onto desks Thursday, moments after the pupils had left their seats to line up for recess.

Principal Blackford Kough said the entire building should be closed if the pupils can be sent to another school.

"It was an act of God that the recess bell had rung just before the ceiling collapsed," he said.
